

AVOCADO ALERT

- ❖ As we referenced in our Market Update, avocado prices are on the rise. Expect to see prices spike early next week as supplies of avocados tighten in the wake of Growers in Mexican drastically reducing their export to the US. Shortages could promote pro-rates. Our buyers are diligently working to source alternatives in other markets, such as South America. Please reach out to your sales representative to discuss cost-effective options, including avocado pulp. We will keep you informed as the situation progresses.
