

BASIL ALERT

Dear Valued Customers,

We are experiencing a supply shortage of basil due to freezing temperatures and excess rain in the current growing regions. In addition, available basil may be of poor quality showing black spots and other leaf damage. With the high demand for basil, prices are increasing as well.

Our buyers will continue to source from multiple vendors but please note that we cannot guarantee stock or quality of the basil, so keep this in mind when ordering this week.

We will advise you when better quality becomes available.

